DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE

"TAXATION ACT"

HIS HONOUR the Lieutenant-Governor in Council has been pleased to order that, pursuant to the provisions of subsection (1) of section 163 of the "Taxation Act," being chapter 332 of the "Revised Statutes of British Columbia, 1948," the following regulations be approved:—

TAXATION ACT PIPE-LINE REGULATIONS

1. Title

1-1. These Regulations may be cited as the "Taxation Act Pipe-line Regulations."

2. Interpretation

2-1. "Act" means the "Taxation Act."

2-2. "Distribution Natural Gas Pipe-lines" means the low pressure pipe-lines, which receive the natural gas for distribution purposes from the high pressure transportation pipe-lines at the pressure reducing valves.

2-3. "Gathering Pipe-lines" means pipe-lines for the transportation of:—

(a) natural gas from the final point of well-head preparation to the intake valve at the scrubbing, processing, or refining plant;

(b) petroleum or petroleum products from the battery delivery valve to the intake valve at the refining, processing, or storage facilities which precede transfer of the oil to a transportation pipe-line.

2-4. "Natural Gas" is a gaseous mixture of hydrocarbons and other gases received from the wells, and includes such gas after refinement.

2-5. "Petroleum or Petroleum Products" mean crude oil or liquid hydrocarbons or any product or by-product thereof.

2-6. "Pipe-line Company" means any person, partnership, association, or corporation, owning or operating a pipe-line, all or any part of which is situate in British Columbia.

2-7. "Pipe-line Right-of-Way" means a strip of land not exceeding sixty (60) feet in width upon, or under which, is laid a pipe-line or pipe-lines used in gathering, distribution, or transportation of natural gas, petroleum, or petroleum products.

2-8. "Transportation Pipe-line" means a pipe-line, other than a distribution natural gas pipe-line or gathering pipe-line, that is used for the transportation of petroleum, petroleum products or gas and is designated by order of the Minister as a transportation pipe-line.

3. Returns and Records

3-1. Where a Pipe-line Company commences to deliver natural gas, petroleum or petroleum products for the first time, the Company shall make a return to the Surveyor of Taxes within twenty-one days after the date the pipe-line commences operation. The return shall set out, wherever possible, the information required by section 33c of the Act. The costs of installation of the gathering, transportation, or distribution pipe-lines and ancillary improvements of the Company in place at the date the pipe-line commences operation shall be supplied with this return.

4. Assessment

4-1. The assessed value of natural gas distribution pipe-lines shall be ascertained pursuant to section 30 of the Act.

4-2. The assessed value of gathering pipe-lines shall be ascertained pursuant to section 30A of the Act.

4-3. Where more than one pipe-line, used for the gathering or transportation of natural gas, petroleum, or petroleum products of one pipe-line company, is located on the same pipe-line right-of-way of that company, the pipe-line having the largest diameter shall be deemed to be the first pipe-line for purposes of clause (c) of section 30A of the Act. Clause (c) of section 30A does not apply where the separate pipe-lines, on the same right-of-way, are owned by different pipe-line companies.

4-4. Where the percentage ascertained in clause (b) of section 30A falls below seventy-five per centum, the provision of clause (c) of section 30A shall not apply to the assessments on each additional pipe-line of the same pipe-line company on the same right-of-way.

4-5. "Average actual daily utilized capacity" of natural gas, petroleum, or petroleum products gathering and transportation pipe-lines shall be determined:—

(a) Where a return is made for operations with respect to less than a full twelve months of operation under section 33c of the Act, or pursuant to Regulation 3-1, by dividing the estimated total throughput in the first full twelve months after the pipe-line commences operation by the number of days that it is estimated the pipe-line will operate in that twelve months.

(b) Where a return is made pursuant to section 33c of the Act for operations with respect to a full twelve months ending on the thirty-first day of August in any year, by dividing the total throughput during the twelve months' reporting period by the number of days that the pipe-line was operating in that reporting period.

4-6. "Rated daily carrying capacity" of each gathering and transportation pipe-line shall be determined:—

(a) Where pumping- or compressor-station facilities are in place and in use on the pipe-line, the maximum throughput that the pipe-line can carry on the first day of the return under section 33c of the Act, where the pipe-line has been operating for a full twelve months, or on the date that the pipe-line commences operation where a return is made for the first time under Regulation 3-1, in terms of the diameter of pipe, pumping or compressor stations and loops and auxiliary pipe in place and in use as part of the pipe-line.

(b) Where no pumping or compressor station facilities are in place and in use on the pipe-line, the maximum throughput carried in any one twenty-four-hour period during the full twelve months where a return is made under section 33c of the Act, or where the pipe-line commences operation for the first time and a return is made under Regulation 3-1, the estimated maximum throughput carried in any one twenty-four-hour period during the first twelve months of operation.

4-7. For purposes of section 30A of the Act, the ratio of average actual daily utilized capacity to rated daily carrying capacity of each pipe-line, including branches, laterals or loops, of each pipe-line company shall be deemed to be the same throughout the complete mileage of each pipe-line, notwithstanding any variation of the outside diameter of the pipe-line and shall be calculated

(a) for each gathering pipe-line where the outlet valve delivers the natural gas, petroleum, or petroleum products to a refinery or gathering-line of another pipe-line company, and

(b) for each transportation pipe-line

(1) where the pipe-line commences in British Columbia for the purpose of conveying natural gas, petroleum, or petroleum products into the Province,

(2) at the joint inlet valve to a transportation pipe-line conveying natural gas, petroleum, or petroleum products from a refinery or drying plant within the Province and from a compressor or pumping station where the natural gas, petroleum, or petroleum products originates from Alberta, or

(3) at the inlet valve where the transportation pipe-line company takes delivery of the natural gas, petroleum, or petroleum products from another transportation pipe-line company within the Province.
